

The New Monopoly far exceeded my expectations for my wedding reception entertainment. From the beginning, they were easy to work with, alleviating the traditional wedding-planning stress by letting us know that they would take care of details so we didn't have to worry.

From the onset of the reception started, the guests were immediately engaged by the New Monopoly's energy and sound. They played a perfect mix of songs that guests of all ages enjoyed. The dance floor was packed the entire night - including my 89 year old grandmother who danced the night away and even joined the conga line.

The New Monopoly's music montages were the icing on the proverbial wedding cake, as everyone enjoyed hearing and singing along with their favorites from Elton John, compliments of Justin, and the Rolling Stones. When they played today's hits, the songs sounded authentic and the guests loved Scott as the front man during hip hop songs by Fifty Cent and others.

Throughout the night and during the weeks following the wedding, we received many compliments on the band - their energy, great sound and engaging performance. Tom & I both believe that the New Monopoly was the key in taking our event from a traditional reception to an unforgettable evening.

Some people expect a wedding band to be the backdrop for their reception, but the New Monopoly goes far beyond that and creates a dynamic atmosphere with an interactive experience that will keep your guests talking for days!

Jenn & Tom Rebain
July 7, 2007